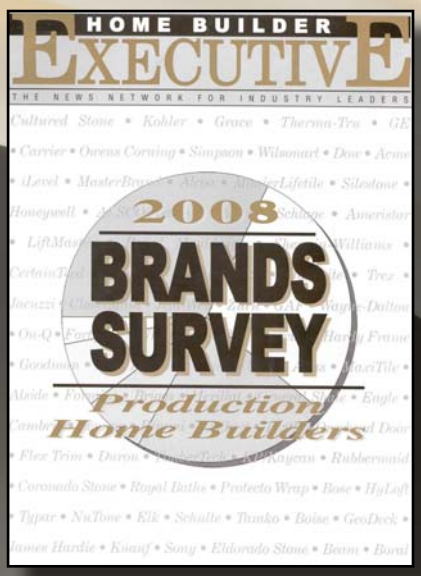
Brand of Choice: Zurn PEX



In a Home Builder Executive blind survey of America's top 350 builders, 53% selected Zurn PEX as their brand of choice, more than our two largest competitor's combined. Our commitment to state-of-the art products, dedicated customer support, and solid relationships with our business partners is paying off. The Results:

At Zurn, we use a patented silane method to manufacture our PEX tubing, which delivers excellent strength as well as superior protection from UV and chlorine damage. The dense base resin produces structurally superior tubing at a lower level of cross-linking which allows Zurn PEX to efficiently manufacture tubing with the highest burst pressure and tensile strength in the industry. With qualities like that, it is no surprise that Zurn PEX is the brand of choice.
